Race 2 @ 5.57pm - #3 Rough And Ready

He stuck on bravely last start after doing a power of work. From the draw, he can spice up combinations.

Race 5 @ 7.25pm - #1 Le Major, #2 Mako, #4 The Surfer & #5 Little Spike

I'll be totally honest and say I can't single out any one of my four runners.

We start with Le Major who I can't fault. Both his workouts have been super, and the draw swings in his favour. I'm expecting him to go a very good race.

Mako cut out his final 800 in 54.4 last week so he won't have to go better than that. From his handy barrier he looks a strong chance.

The Surfer comes in off the back to two very tidy workouts. He's well over the odds, and with the right trip can feature.

Our final runner, and by no means the least, is Little Spike. He's been untested at the workouts and is one who always springs a surprise. I'd like to think he'll be right there when it counts.

Race 6 @ 7.51pm - #3 Ragnar Lothbrok

His form line isn't a true indication as to how he's been going. He's cut out some strong sectionals from bad draws. He's a smokey.

Race 8 @ 8.49pm - #3 Jolimont

He's another who comes in with strong workout form. His standing start manners have been great and I'm expecting a bold run fresh up.
