

Meeting Preview - Alexandra Park

Race 2 @ 6.18pm #5 Cracker Rock

This wee bloke is racing super. There are two nice horses drawn inside him, so I'd expect them to race handy to the pace. Cover him in trifecta/first four combinations.

Race 5 @ 7.33pm #2 Dragonstone

I was happy with her last week as she didn't get the bends that well. The field has plenty of depth, but she's improving with every outing. Hopefully she gets a cosy trip and finishes the race off.

Race 6 @ 7.59pm #2 Kango #4 Jolimont

Once again, it was a courageous effort from Kango in the Taylor Mile. I'm expecting a few will make their presence felt once the arms fold. It's a top class field but the way he's racing you can't count him out.

I think the early burn cost Jolimont last week given it was his first start against the big guns. We'll take the shortcuts and hope for a form reversal.

Race 9 @ 9.20pm #11 Bad Medicine

Another honest run in the Northern Regional Champs Final. I'd like to think he's a quinella/trifecta/first four player.

Race 10 @ 9.50pm #2 Beta Prepare

He's putting together a tidy form line and has finally turned up a good draw. On exposed form he gets in nicely. He looks a handy each way chance.
